Understanding your medicines and taking them properly is important to you staying fit and well.

It's not always easy though knowing how your tablets work and what they are meant to do. That's why at Insync Pharmacy you can pop in whenever you want for a chat with one of our pharmacists about your medicines. With a free Medicine Usage Review we'll help you understand your medicines and help you get the best from them.

Do I need a check-up of my medicines?

If you answer yes to any of the following questions then pop in and see us or return the form on the reverse of this leaflet.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|
| Are you on long-term medicines? | You don't know what some of your medicines are meant to do. |
| Are you still displaying symptoms? | You sometimes forget to take your medicines. |
| Are you suffering with side-effects? | |
| Do you find it difficult taking some of your medicines? | |

Simply pop into the pharmacy with a list of the medications you are currently taking and ask any member of staff about our medicine review service. They'll take care of things for you.

Your medicine check-up will be in a private consultation room so you can relax and have a friendly chat about the medication you are taking with your pharmacist. The check-up will last between 10 and 15 minutes and your pharmacist will ask you questions about the medicines you are taking. You can also ask any questions you have about your medicines and any problems you may be having. The pharmacist will help you understand your medication and give you advice so that you get the most from them.

They will write down everything they have told you so you don't need to worry about remembering what they say. And if you have anymore questions you can pop back again at anytime for more help and advice. We can even carry out your review over the phone if that's easier?

For more information just speak to a member of staff or if you'd prefer a phone appointment just fill in the form on the back of this leaflet and return it to your local Insync Pharmacy.
